
RAISING AWARENESS OF GAS SAFETY

Raising awareness of gas safety could save lives. Badly fitted and poorly serviced gas appliances can cause gas leaks, fires, explosions and carbon monoxide poisoning.

Every year thousands of people across the UK are diagnosed with carbon monoxide poisoning, which can be caused by unsafe central heating systems, gas cookers or gas fires.

We are working hard to raise awareness of gas safety; however the support of organisations such as yours is invaluable.

We have various free tools to help you spread the word; including:

- Leaflets: different sized consumer and trade leaflets for you to distribute on counters, at exhibitions or in your regular mailings
- Posters: suitable for consumer and trade customers, for you to display in your office or shop
- Event speakers: we may be able to provide a speaker for your forums, seminars or conferences
- Web banners: banners of different sizes and designs to display on your website, intranet or emails
- Scripts and FAQs: to brief employees or display on your website or notice boards
- Ready to use text: ideal to add in to your materials. Suitable for your magazines, newsletters, website, emails and internal communications – just cut and paste!
- Press releases and articles: ideal for sending to your local newspaper or including in your own communications
- Images: we can send you images to support your communications on gas safety
- Social media updates: short text ideal for sending tweets and updating your Facebook status
